Conditions relating to guarantee against invasion..

e.g., agreement by both parties to maintain peace in the Caribbean; or Cuban assurance that Cuba would not seek through military aggression or submarines to interfere in the affairs of other American States; or Soviet agreement that our guarantee applies only so long as they maintain the peace elsewhere in the world.

2. Definition of offensive weapons.

Should the definition be based upon the Proclamation or the Proclamation plus the two supplements, or should it refer to a new list which might include all means of delivering warheads.

3. Conditions for lifting the quarantine.

a. Should the quarantine be reimposed after U-Thant's return or alternatively at the end of the day on Thursday?

b. Should it be permanently removed in return for an adequate system of in-bound inspection, or should its permanent removal be limited only to the conclusion of a satisfactory agreement relating to verified removal of the offensive weapons from Cuba?

4. Procedures for in-bound inspection.

Should the in-bound inspection be performed by the Red Cross or some other party; should it be performed at sea or at ports; if it is to be performed at sea from what point should the inspectors board the incoming ships; should it apply to all ships, or only to all Bloc ships, or should it be based on sampling techniques?

5. Inspection to verify removal of offensive weapons from their emplacements and to verify their removal to the ports. What reliance will be placed upon aerial reconnaissance as a foundation for ground inspection? Would it be almost solely upon aerial inspection for this purpose? What about high and low level reconnaissance of the entire island?

6. Port inspection.

What will be taken to insure that weapons removed from the sites are actually shipped out of Cuba?

7. Guantanamo.

What guarantee, if any, will we seek relating to the future status of Guantanamo?

guarantee for an indefinite period not to invade and our previously check very readily. How is it proposed that the Soviets guarantee not to ship offensive weapons into Cuba be checked?
Are we not justified in insisting upon periodic aerial inspection covering the entire island of Cuba by a neutral party.

9. When will we resume aerial inspection and when will we reimpose the quarantine and, specifically, on what will the decisions depend and when must they be made.
